This is what you need to do to claim back your tax relief:

At the end of each year let the tax office know how much you have given to Child's Destiny of Hope in order that you can receive tax relief on those payments. In case you should be asked to prove that you donated the money, in the future, it is recommended that you highlight on your bank statement all of the gifts that you have made to Child's Destiny of Hope and keep this in a safe place for future reference if necessary. Many people will print the appropriate statements from their Internet banking service to make it easier.
